

Keep the Green CLEAN!

by Adriana Vargas

*You may just think this is another lecture about keeping our earth clean
But I'm trying to make you aware of the situation that you might dare to think is minor, that it can't compare to other issues going on*

*This is our home and no one seems to bat an eye and shakes it off like it is just a fly in the sky.
When in reality issues such as pollution, deforestation, overfishing, and much more are causing species that have been here for millions of years to disappear or become endangered and no one wants to interfere.*

Many fail to understand the severity of it, just look around and many things are dying due to what?

Humans who are careless and reckless towards the world.

You might see a video, feel bad and scroll, but that's all you do.

We need to repair the earth and make it better not kill off all the species that can't survive us.

We are supposed to help this earth flourish, not rot off and die and go on about our day without a care in the world.

You need to open your eyes and do something about it,

Use your voice, donate, write, do anything to bring attention to a topic that rarely is spoken about.

You might just shake it off and say I'll do it another day, but we really have no time to waste.

Our home is dying to reasons and causes that were created by mankind.

So please try to help our earth and animals stay alive and clean

Why should we be the ones to take out entire species?

Why should we be the only ones to survive?
